Important information on accessing your property for the Central Corridor Pipeline Extension Project

Dear Property Owner:

Duke Energy Ohio plans to construct a new underground natural gas pipeline in Hamilton County that will allow us to continue providing reliable natural gas service to customers in Southwestern Ohio. This project is known as the Central Corridor Pipeline Extension. Duke Energy has held three open houses since March and has received a significant amount of public input related to the project. As a result, the company recently announced that we are taking additional time to review public comments before applying to the Ohio Power Siting Board (OPSB). In the meantime, we will be continuing the important work of investigating the route options.

This letter is to inform you that Duke Energy, our design firm or our routing consultant may briefly be entering your property to conduct field studies, such as land surveys, soil tests, soundings and other appraisals. We plan to begin the work in your area this coming week. The examinations of your property and other properties along the proposed 12 to 14-mile pipeline routes could take several weeks to complete, although we will only be on each property for up to a few hours. Any disruption to your property will be minimal and we will also do our best to leave your property in the same condition as before. Duke Energy will be responsible for any property damage we cause while conducting the examinations. You do not need to be home during the examination of your property.

If you were able to attend one of our recent informational open houses, we appreciate your interest in the project. Please contact us by phone at 513.287.2130 or by email at CentCorridorPipeline@duke-energy.com if you have any questions about the project or this notification. Details about the project can be found on our website at www.duke-energy.com/centralcorridor.

We appreciate your patience and cooperation as we continue work on this important project, which will provide benefits for our local customers now and for years to come. Thank you for working with us as we move forward with this important project.

Sincerely,

Duke Energy Gas Operations
